One of the Negro Rioters Tells in an Affidavit How Trouble at Houston Started

Trouble at Houston Started

HOUSTON, Tex., August 25.—An afficavit was made yesterday before military authorities by Leroy Pinkett, private in I Company of the 24th Regiment, which participated in Thursday night's rioting, giving what he said was a complete story of the trouble. It is as follows:

"Yesterday about $ p.m. we heard that Corp. Baltimore of our company had been shot by special police officers (white officers, who ride horses). All the boys said, Let's go get the man that shot Baltimore. It was getting late then, and we stood retreat at 6 o'clock, and then I heard Sergt. Henry of our company $ay: "Well, don't stand around like that. If you are going to do anything, go ahead and do it."

"After that I saw some of the boys silp over to Company K, and I heard them say they had stolen the ammunition. Then Capt. Snow called the men out in line. He asked what we were doing and ordered a search made for the ammunition and also ordered that our rifles be taken up.

I was toward the back and id not fire any shot here. Then we harched on up the road and as I assed the car I heard the white man in the car groan, but we did not stop. Then we met some officers in a car oming from the fourth ward and the ergeant made them get out and told hem to leave their car. We did not o any shooting here. Then we met wo men in a buggy which looked like Texas Members of Congress Join in Request to Secretary Baker. The entire Texas delegation in Congress today joined in a request to Secretary Baker to remove and keep out of the state all colored troops, including those drafted, whose training elsewhere was asked.

The congressmen also demanded punishment of those guilty in the Houston murders, which Secretary Baker has promised Senator Sheppard.

BEATS OFF U-BOAT ATTACK. French Steamer Helping Campana Has Battle Also.

PARIS, Thursday, August 23 (delayed).

—A French steamer went to the assistance of the American steamship Campana, which was torpedoed and sunk by submarine on August 6. The French vessel was attacked by both torpedo and gun fire, but replied energetically, and, notwithstanding losses, compelled the submarine to abandon the fight.

On the arrival at an American port this week of forty-six survivors of the tanker Campana it was reported that the submarine which sank the vessel and took prisoner her captain and five of the gun crew was destroyed on the same day by a French patrol cruiser.

TROOPS TO COME EAST FROM CALIFORNIA CAMP

War Department Will Not Modify Order Withdrawing Them From Palo Alto.

The War Department will not modify its ecision to transfer the 41st Division, National Guard troops, from Palo Alto, Cal., to Charlotte, N. C. Representative Kahn of California sent a telegram to Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco today to this effect, after a conference with Maj. Gen. Scott, chief of staff, and other Army officials.

The message said that the estimates of the qurtermaster at Palo Alto showed that it would take an additional expenditure of more than $400,000 and a loss of four weeks' time in training to install the type of sewer system required by the state health authorities.

The expense is not remarked.

type of sewer system required by the state health authorities.

The expense is not regarded as highly important by the War Department, Mr. Kahn's message said, but time is vital, as troops must be got ready without delay, and the Charlotte camp is now in shape to receive the western division.

The Palo Alto camp will not be abandoned, Mr. Kahn indicated. War Department officials plain to continue construction there on modified lines and to get it ready in the winter time so that a part of the National Army division to be mobilized at American Lake, Washington, and comprising levies from all far western states, can be sent to Palo Alto for training during the winter months. Another suggestion is that the Palo Alto camp may be used for training aviators. Mr. Kahn pointed out that with the Coast Range hills and the Pacific ocean beyond to the west of the camp, the broad floor of the Santa Clara valley around it and the upper waters and marsh lands of San Francisco bay adjacent, the site lent every natural advantage for the training of aviators in observation work. bservation work.

OFFICER GIVES SPUR TO BAYONETING CLASS

Tells Men Chances of Seeing U. S. Again Depends on How They Learn the Exercise.

(Special Cablegram to The Star and Chicago Daily News.) Copyright, 1917, by the Chicago Daily New Company.)

BY JUNIUS B. WOOD AMERICAN FIELD HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, August 22 (delayed) .-"The better you learn this the better your chances of getting back to the good old U. S. A.," remarked a young first lieutenant to a squad going through bayonet training. After that structions, while a captain, dilating upon the fine points in a bayonet atthe field. The chance remark of the young officer struck a vital spot in the soldiers' make-up. Desire to win and get home quickly is their all-consuming ambition.

Instruction in the use of liquid fire.

get home quickly is their all-consuming ambition.

Instruction in the use of liquid fire, followed by demonstrations, is scheduled for this week as the result of the successful passing of the entire force through the gas chambers. Special instructions are also being given to officers on the fine points in grenade throwing. The men now throw the bombs in the French style. Training is also proceeding in hand-to-hand fighting and in the musketry phase of warfare, which they take to naturally. An elaborate system of moving targets has been arranged for the bayonet training. The men practice on stuffed figures with moving arms, parrying and thrusting. It is impressed upon them that it is necessary to strike a certain spot. Finally a two-inch ring has to be impaled on the bayonet. All is taken on the run and timed, and points are given to each man.

Handle Grenades Like Base Balls.

Cool-headed soldiers are handling grenades like base balls. Several officers were watching a company of men throwing grenades. One man swung back his arm, the handle of the missile flew off and the sputtering grenade dropped at his feet in the trench. Instead of jumping out and running away the man coolly reached down, picked up the deadly bomb and hurled it into a shell hole forty yards away. "That is one instance of the many cases

That is one instance of the many cases of cool-headed courage I see every day, showing that the men are becoming veterans," commented an officer.

The trenches are now completed and the men are starting the construction of bombproofs, dugouts and other underground refuges. The men are learning every detail of what they will have to do and undergo when they reach the front line. The rocky nature of the soil necessitates the use of dynamite in blasting out the excavations, and this is difficult work. Connecting all the American camps which are spreading over the country is an immense system of telephone lines. Hundreds of poles have been set, miles of wire strung, and yet the work has only started. Special gangs of linemen and electricians are working not only in the area now occupied, but a much larger territory to be used by future contingents. It will not be necessary to use French lines or string wires or French supports "The government cannot permit its work to be done under sweatshop conditions, and it cannot allow the evils widely complained of to go uncorrected. Only through the establishment of such a body as the board of control, now created, will the government be assured that Army clothing is manufactured under recognized industrial standards and in an atmosphere of, good will between manufacturers and operatives. This alone will assure fit clothing and its prompt delivery for Army needs."

Expects No Delay in Manufacture.

Secretary Baker said he did not anticipate any serious delay in the delivery of Army clothing as a result of the new plant. Some manufacturers had indicated, he said, that there would be a slight loss of the control of the serious delay in the delivery of Army clothing as a result of the new plant. Secretary Baker said he did not anticipate any serious delay in the delivery of Army clothing as a result of the new plan. Some manufacturers had indicated, he said, that there would be a slight loss of time, due to the standardization process, but not enough to be of any importance.

The Secretary thought the net result of the plan would be found to expedite production, since new facilities would be opened to the department in this way and the danger of labor troubles reduced.

SACRIFICE DAY SUGGESTED.

Sacrifice day for the National Army.

Such a scheme has been suggested to President Wilson in a letter from J. D.

Sullivan of 612 west 3d street, Wilmington, Del., a veteran of the Spanish-American war, who lost his right leg in the service in Cuba in 1898.

Mr. Sullivan, who formerly resided here, suggests that September 5, the day that the first of the National Army will be called to the colors, be set aside as "Sacrifice day." His idea is to make this a day when every citizen can make some sacrifice—for instance, a part of his day's pay, the price of a cigar or a drink, or, in fact, any such small sacrifice—to go to a fund in each community to secure comfort for those who enter the service from that locality. He also suggests that part of the amount raised that day go toward the tobacco fund.

He has also written to Secretary Baker and to Gen. Crowder outlining his plans for "Sacrifice day."

Because of the time required to reach France it is understood a general recruit depot will be established on the other side, which will be fed from the depot here, and in turn supply men to regiments at the front as they are needed to fill the gaps. ASKS PRIZES FOR CANNERS.

Hold an Exhibition. The Thomson School canning center has applied to the National Emergency Food Garden Commission for the privilege of making prize awards, under regulations prescribed by the commission, for the best canned vegetables grown in war gar-dens. The applications specify that one award is wanted for adult canners and another for Girl Scout canners. Both applications were signed by Mrs. C. W. Wet-

Upon receipt of these app Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the commission, commended the women of Washington for the work they have been doing in aiding to conserve the national

Washington for the work they have been doing in alding to conserve the national food supply.

P. S. Ridsdale, secretary of the commission, today announced the rules governing the award of 1.000 $5 prizes. It is stated these prizes will be given for award at any state, county, city or community exhibition at which prizes may be offered. The officials in charge of the fair or exhibit shall have general charge of the awards, as the National Emergency Food Garden Commission will be governed in presenting the prizes by the decision of local officials.
